Dear Mr. Stauffer:

This is to acknowledge receipt of the report of the President's Communications Policy Board and submit the comments requested in your letter of 25 February to the Director of Central Intelligence. The following comments, which are keyed to the questions in your letter, are based upon the experience of this agency which, as you know, worked with the Board on certain aspects of its study. You should recognize, however, that this agency is qualified mainly to comment on points a. and b., and that the comments on points c., d. and e. are based more on opinion than study.

a. The need for a top-level telecommunications agency, with powers as recommended, is clearly indicated if the four major problems presented by the board are to be resolved. (The proposed solution is in line with the points raised in the memorandum from CIA to the Executive Secretary, National Security Council of 25 January 1951, relative to the Soviet preparation for electromagnetic warfare.)

b. The functions of the proposed Telecommunications Advisory Board appear adequate as outlined and, properly implemented, should result in a distinct improvement to the national telecommunications structure.

c. The location of the proposed board within the Executive Office of the President is both logical and desirable in order that the board may have the stature and dignity which is essential to the accomplishment of its objectives.

d. The relationship of the proposed board with other telecommunications agencies as expressed in the President's Communications Policy board report appears to be proper.

a. It is believed that the composition of the board as proposed will provide the organizational flexibility essential to the accomplishment of the board's mission in the broad field of telecommunications.

Sincerely yours,

SIGNED

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Executive Assistant to DCI

FROM : Assistant Director for Operations

SUBJECT: Telecommunications

DATE: MAR - 8 1951

REF : Memorandum to AD/O from Executive Assistant to DCI dated 1 March 1951 transmitting copy No. 77 of a "Utilization Study of the High Frequency Part of the Radio Spectrum" prepared by the President's Communications Policy Board

1. The study transmitted by reference memorandum underlines the need for a telecommunications agency outside the FCC.
2. The proposed Telecommunications Advisory Board should be empowered to:
  - a. Arbitrate the registration, utilization, assignment and priority of need for telecommunications channels by Government and non-Government interests.
  - b. negotiate for the reduction of interference problems on and between channels occupied by United States and foreign stations.
  - c. represent United States' interests in the implementation of international treaties.
  - d. Coordinate the activities of FCC and CAC as they pertain to the problems of United States telecommunications.
3. It would appear that the proposed board should be located in the Executive Office of the President.
4. In order to avoid duplication of facilities and functions, the proposed agency should call on the FCC for required monitoring. It is believed that this may require an expansion of FCC's Field Engineering and Monitoring Division.
5. The Office of Operations has no comment on the relationship of the new agency to other agencies.
